

Environmental Policy

Keurig Dr Pepper recognizes that our business depends upon environmental resources. We therefore pursue positive impact on the places where we work and the lives we touch, by restoring natural resources and partnering with communities. With that as our aim, we work to design, source and manufacture products that benefit the environment as a whole.

We commit to:

- Understanding and working to reduce our impacts, from the design of our packaging and brewers and the cultivation of beverage ingredients, all the way through end-of-life product disposal
- Protecting the environment through responsible management of our operations, including efficient use and re-use of resources, championing renewable energy and preventing pollution and waste
- Fostering social and environmental responsibility through our influence with our suppliers
- Continually improving our environmental management systems and performance
- Fulfilling or exceeding our environmental compliance obligations
- Partnering with customers, industry and communities for positive impact on our natural resources
- Using this policy as a framework for setting environmental objectives
